TO HURRY UP ADMINISTRATIONS

Citations Being Issued—More Divorce Cases—General Court News.

An effort is being made by Judge Robinson, who is presiding judge at chambers this term, to have estates wound up which have been a due time under administration. By direction of the court, Clerk Simonton has notified administrators and executors of about a dozen estates to file their final accounts. Those who fail to respond within a reasonable time are liable to be shown to appear at a certain time and be cited why they should not be removed from their trusts for their neglect. Two citations were issued yesterday.

THE BROWN ESTATE.
Jacob F. Brown, Arthur M. Brown and Minnie H. Gilman, executors and executrix of the last will and testament of Cordelia Hastings Brown, deceased, are cited in an order by Judge Robinson to appear on Monday next at 10 o'clock and show cause, if any they have, why they should not be removed from their trusts as such executors and executrix for having failed, neglected and refused to file their final accounts and petition for distribution, as notified and directed under a former order of the court to do.

THE CARTER ESTATE.
Jessie K. Kaee, executrix of the last will and testament of Margaret V. Carter, deceased, is cited by an order of Judge Robinson to appear on Monday next at 10 o'clock and show cause, if any she has, why she should not be removed from her trust as such executrix for having failed, neglected and refused to file her final accounts and petition for distribution, as notified and directed under a former order of the court to do.

OTHER PROBATE MATTERS.
August Ahrens, guardian of A. K. Hapai and five others, children of the late A. K. Hapai, has filed his final accounts with a petition for discharge. He shows receipts of $2100 and payments of $1953.72, leaving a balance of $146.28. Two of the minors are dead and the others have come of age. Their father was bookkeeper under Jules Richardson, who started the Waianae sugar plantation, and they were all born at Waianae. Their mother is still living at Hilo with some of the children. Mr. Ahrens, who married an aunt of the children, was appointed their guardian by the late Chief Justice Judd on January 5, 1891. He files receipts from seven distributees, including the heirs of the two deceased children, covering a distribution of $1146.48 balance of securities in his hands. On January 16, 1905, he paid a mortgage owing by the family on the homestead in Hilo, which had been given for necessary improvements on the houses and premises.

Judge Robinson admitted the will of Junius Kaee to probate, appointing the widow, Jessie K. Kaee, as executrix without bond in accordance with the testator's direction.
Translations by A. Marques of Portuguese documents from Brava Island, in the matter of the estate of Frank Antone, have been filed.

DIVORCE CASES.
Leialoha Carroll has brought a divorce suit against John William Carroll, to whom she was married in September, 1890, on the grounds of gross misconduct in consorting with women of bad reputation and of failure to support wife and family. They have five children ranging from twelve to four years of age. It is alleged that libelee is a carriage manufacturer and can easily earn from $80 to $90 a month, but that he has neglected his work and when he did earn money dissipated it in the company of other women. Libellant in consequence is compelled to depend on her mother and other relatives for food, lodging, clothing and the necessities of life. She prays for absolute divorce, for exclusive custody of the children, for $40 a month permanent alimony, as well as the same amount of temporary alimony pending the conclusion of the proceeding, and for payment of costs and a reasonable attorney's fee by libelee. Sam. F. Chillingworth is her attorney.

Maria Kikaha has brought a divorce suit against Pa Kekaulike, to whom she was married June 1, 1905, on the ground of utter desertion in October, 1905, and since. The desertion began at Waimanalo, Koolaupeke, where they were living as husband and wife. It is further alleged by libellant that libelee, for more than a year, has utterly failed to provide means for her support, and that during the four months they lived together in the married state he continually used threatening words to her, saying he would beat her to death, and displaying deadly weapons such as gun and knife, which caused her to be very much in fear.

Keoole Aene answers his wife Kahaanui Keoole's libel for divorce, waiving service of summons and admitting that libellant is his wife.

Judge Robinson ordered publication of summons in the divorce suit of Bertha Johanna Richards against Frederick James Richards, the libellant not knowing the whereabouts of the libelee.

Judge Robinson granted a divorce to Nohoune Kipi against Samuel Kipi for desertion.

COURT ITEMS.
Elizabeth K. Booth has brought an ejectment suit against J. H. Schnack and Manuel Silva for land in Honolulu containing between three and four acres. Damages of $500 for unlawful detention are claimed.

A. G. A. Robertson for plaintiff will move before Judge Robinson this morning to set the jury waived assumption suit of S. C. Dwight v. R. W. Davis for trial.

Plaintiff in the ejectment suit of Hopoli Wire v. Waiakua Agricultural Co., Ltd., et al., is allowed twenty days more time in which to file her bill of exceptions.

DAMAGE SUIT IS KEPT ALIVE

Judge Kepoikai Sustained in One Ruling and Reversed in Another.

A unanimous opinion of the Supreme Court, written by Justice Hartwell, was rendered yesterday in the damage suit of Maria Marks Silva against Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., on exceptions from rulings by Judge Kepoikai of the Second Circuit Court, Maui. The exception to overruling the demurrer is overruled, the exception to refusing to allow the defendant to answer over is sustained and the defendant may file its answer within ten days. C. W. Ashford and J. L. Coke for plaintiff; A. Lewis Jr. and D. H. Case for defendant.

The plaintiff sued the defendant, alleged to be a common carrier of passengers between the various ports of the Territory, for damages resulting from an injury received in falling from a wharf at Maalaea Bay on which the defendant landed her at night as a passenger on the steamer Kinau from Honolulu for that place. It was declared in substance that she was landed in a boat upon the wharf, and there left to make her way to the land by herself, and that in consequence of their being no guides or lights on the wharf she fell off the structure and was injured.

The defendant contended on demurrer that it was not liable for the condition of the wharf unless it had authority or control over it, but the appellate court overrules that contention, as did the court below, saying: "But whether this is to be treated as an action of assumption for damages from the defendant's breach of an express contract, its control of the wharf being then immaterial, or as founded on the defendant's violation of its duty to take reasonable precaution to guard passengers against accidents, when landing them upon a public wharf, in either case the demurrer would have to be overruled."

"But," the court says in sustaining the other exception, "the defendant ought to have been allowed to answer over in conformity with our practice. The statute, in providing that after answer or demurrer there shall be no further pleading, does away with rejoinders, rebutters, etc., in making up an issue, but does not limit the defense to a demurrer or a general denial."

CASE SUBMITTED.
Hackfeld v. Monsarrat, foreclosure, was argued and submitted before the Supreme Court yesterday.

THE LAND COURT.
Grace Dickey Merrill has petitioned for a registered title of a house lot at the corner of Nuuanu and School streets, Honolulu, containing 32,346 square feet. The land is assessed at $6470 and the improvements at $3500, a total of $9970.

KALAKAUA'S LAND PURCHASE OUTLAWED

Kapilani Estate, Ltd., had its mandamus suit against the Territory of Hawaii thrown out of court yesterday, but may carry it to the Supreme Court. The suit was to compel the Commissioner of Public Lands to issue a land patent for a parcel of land among three knocked down to the late King Kalakaua, and the Commissioner was served with a subpoena duces tecum commanding him to bring into court the book of records of land sales when L. Aholo was Minister of the Interior, April, 1887. Kalakaua paid for two parcels but left the price of the third in default. Now after twenty years his successor, the Kapilani Estate, Ltd., demands a patent for the land, tendering the price, a trifling amount, with interest until time of demand. C. W. Ashford appeared for petitioner, and E. W. Milverton, Deputy Attorney General, for the Territory.

Mr. Milverton moved to have the writ dismissed on the ground of laches and abandonment of bid, also for lack of jurisdiction, on the last point questioning the sufficiency of the alternative writ as issued out of the Supreme Court. Judge Robinson gave an oral decision substantially as follows: "Mandamus is an extraordinary legal remedy and it is exercised by the court only with caution and then only to aid in the enforcement of a right which is fixed, definite and certain, and wholly established, the deprivation of which is complained of."

"In this instance a tender is alleged after twenty years. Certainly this extraordinary power will not be exercised in aid of a claimant who had permitted his rights to rest for such a length of time."

"I am inclined to think, too, that the motion is well taken upon the second ground stated, that is, upon the insufficient character of the alternative writ."

"The motion is granted, the alternative writ discharged and the petitioner dismissed."

"Let the motion be granted upon the first and second grounds stated."

Mr. Ashford noted an appeal.
